KAINKOLLEKTIV/BOCHUM – BURAK OZDEMİR & MUSICA SEQUENZA/BERLİN – İSTANBUL WOMEN'S MUSEUM/İSTANBUL PRACOWNIA KURATORSKA/POLAND – TAK THEATER AUFBAU/KREUZBERG BERLİN – KAMPNAGEL/HAMBURG in cooperation with universities worldwide

Kassia (810-865): considered as the first female composer worldwide whose works have come down to us. Kassia: beautiful, intelligent, educated - and so emancipated that she dared to contradict Emperor Theophilos of Constantinople showing theological acumen during the "bride show" organized for him in 823. When in 843 Kassia was 33 she founded a monastery, which she presided over until her death in 865. 300 years before Hildegard von Bingen, she composed hymns that are still sung in Eastern Church today. Although biographical data are hardly available and only a part of her writings has survived, her personality is particularly evident in her non-liturgical poems. These poems suggest that Kassia was a highly educated and intellectually gifted woman. A person who writes a poem where every line starts with "I hate" cannot have been a shy person. She knew how to Express her thoughts to demonstrate her position. In a time and a society where women should be silent, Kassia was not silent. As a result, in her writings we have a unique female voice that has endured over ages.

From Turkey, Germany and Poland, a women's museum, a theatre company, a composer with his orchestra, a women's initiative, and the departments of graphics, animation and art history from two universities and many individuals have come together to celebrate Kassia's 1211th birthday. We hear Kassia's voice and carry it on into the present so that women's voices get louder across the borders. As a hymnographer, Kassia is celebrated in general for her piety and profound expression of religious devotion. We believe that she deserves to be remembered in her entire personality: as a composer, poet, philosopher, campaigner, networker, activist, innovator, even as a feminist. In dialogue with Kassia we want to talk about our lives, our political and social interference for a self-determined life, and encourage and empower one another. Our project is an encounter through music, dance, stories, poems, illustrations, graphics, animations. This variety opens up space to express our dreams and life plans for a just society and makes feminist debate visible beyond the borders. Especially in a year when Turkey announced her withdrawal from the Istanbul Convention and when a similar step is being discussed in Poland, such communication is imperative and important.

Finally the project planned includes several premieres: for the first time since her death Kassia's birthday will be celebrated; the first opera in honour of Kassia is being composed; the first videos and graphics are being created that reinterpret her secular poems as artwork; professional actors will interpret her poems in (Byzantine) historical places, the performance will be made available as a documentary; and for the first time researchers on Kassia will come together for scholarly exchange.
